Fixed Window Architectural

Fixed windows, or most commonly called picture windows, do not open or close and are frequently key design components of a home's architecture. They can range in shape from arched or circular to rectangular or trapezoid with some size limitations to ensure strength.

With a multitude of shapes and sizes available, the Ecoguard Series 300 presents many design possibilities from a rectangular shape that increase views and light, to triangles, arches and trapezoids that follow an impressive roof line.
